POSITIVE ENERGY!

A new San Diego Fanzine. This 'zine was started sort of on the spur of the moment. We've both done 'zines before, and just decided to do something to help our scene. Thus, the birth of P.E. We don't have as much in this issue as we would of liked to, but we hope you'll overlook that and see what we're saying. The "Purpose" of P.E. is to represent our scene's POSITIVE aspects. There's enough negative crap in our scene, we hope to create something positive, and hopefully keep a sense of humor at the same time, and have FUN! We are also going to do a compilation cassette, so all you positive, fun bands send us a good quality tape!

Does Reagan Rule?

All of this U.S. interest about world hunger and under privileged children in foreign countries is driving me crazy. Has everyone forgotten about their own country, the proud United States. What about the massive amounts of unemployed and hungry people in this country of ours. I think we should try to spend more money on the needy in this country and not send most of it overseas. I'm not trying to rank on those which are helping out the scene here in the U.S., I'm just saying take a look around you, in this country, we need help too! Of course Reagan does have priority since we elected him back into office for another 4 years of bullshit and military spending that will never end. But, that may be why everyone is sending aid, including Reagan, to foreign countries. Then Reagan will be able to take them over with a few invasions and build more military bases and weapons closer to Russia. That's what I think. SKATE IT AWAY!!

UNITY OR STUPIDITY

Have you ever wondered why punks fight with each other? I do after every show. It seems that theres at least one fight at every show. WHY? I thought Punk was supposed to be different from the rest of the world, Punk is supposed to be an alternative to Rock stars and corporations, Punk is supposed to represent something(what?), but everytime two punks fight it confirms the stereotypes people have of us and our scene: Punks are stupid, violent, ignorant assholes who love to beat up on each other. To some punks thats what it is- but is it ^{FAIR} that the actions of a few dictate the whole's image?! It's not. A lot of people work very hard to help give Punk a positive image, but the few idiots don't care! If you don't like the way people percieve punks- do something about it! Break up fights at shows, do a 'zine, start a band, have a positive attitude, and have fun!!! The scene is YOURS- Respect it!

DIARRHEA OF THE MOUTH WITH GREG LIPMASTER

It looks like we made it through 1984 only to find out 1985 will be a) as bad, b) worse, or c) better. Anyhow, the biggest hype/bullshit of '84 goes to Band-Aid. Before you call me uncaring or whatever, read on. OK, the profits of this record goes to help the starving Ethiopians. Good. Great. But what about the profits the record companies gain from the artists' other releases. (who did band-aid). Some of these profits go to building atomic weapons or go to farming conglomerates that add to the problem of a world hunger. So these humanistic stars aren't helping the problem they are just giving the public a false sense of charity. Joe Public can buy the Band-Aid single and think he's helping to bring about world peace then turn the corner into McDonald's. And what about the starving in Angola, India, and even the U.S.A.!! There are many good organizations that help out the truly needy (Red Cross) but this Band-Aid is bullshit. A video on MTV - how ridiculous.

La Jolla

Grindless ~~bank~~ bank- La Jolla
This asphalt bank is at the school where Ardath and Torrey Pines rd. meet.
It's usually sandy, but it's cool for most bank tricks and slides.

Saks fifth ave. banks La Jolla Rad asphalt bank with a fairly smooth asphalt curb on the top. It's hard to skate it at night, so try it during the day or on the weekend, when there aren't as many parked cars.

La Jolla garages
There are at least 6 that we know of that are totally sessionable. Especially when it rains and you have nothing better to do. Some are frontside, some are backside, and most have elevators.

McCurbs
At the McDonalds in P.B. there are the longest curbs ever. Painted thick brown for the slickest surface around they're great for grinds. The red curbs around the drive thru are totally slideable.

Club I-D mini banks in P.B.
A cool bank with a grindable curb-like thing on the top. A cool place to scam and hang.

Imperial

As Danny would say, "natural grinding lips". This awesome ditch, which runs parallel to Imperial ave. in Lemon Grove has great transitions. The upper section is about 5ft. high (like san0land), and the bottom is about 3ft. with quick transition. It's even better when there's parking blocks.

Del Mar Skate Ranch

Located in north San Diego, this skatepark is way cool. Featuring rad banks to warm up on, and 5 or 6 pools and bowls, most of which are very skateable, a 25 yard long $\frac{1}{2}$ pipe, and, of course, the infamous keyhole.

Jerabeck banks

These banks are at an elementary school near Mike and Martin's houses. The cool thing about 'em is that they're totally grindable, because of the planters at the top.

Off-The-Walls

Not only the best ditch in Hawaii, but the best ditch in the world. Transitions thanks to Kyle and the H.K. bros.

San0land

Located in Solana Beach, this ditch has everything from 2ft. banks to 30ft. banks-and everything in between. It has a slightly rough surface, so bring gloves. There's never any snake sessions, because there's so many skateable spots along the ditch. Plus, the pipe at the top is ~~totally~~ totally butt-boardable.

TEAM GLEOCIN

Downtown S.D. garages
You probably already know about the killer 12 story Community Concourse, but there's at least 5 more that are rideable with a chance of getting busted, so keep your eyes open, keep quiet, and don't leave a mess,
so others can have future sessions.

La Costa $\frac{1}{2}$ pipe
I haven't ridden this since last summer, but I heard it got a few more sheets of plywood this fall.
Probably skateable again after the rainy season is over. Dimensions when I was there: 8ft. wide, 4-5ft.
high, no coping, platforms, and an 8ft. radius.

Curb
Lance's Hollywood Crub?
Located on Melrose Ave. at a 24hr. gas station this thickly painted brown crub totally ~~kickass~~ rules. We discovered it while street skating but if you want a closer look check out the latest Powell video. Forever boardslides are a must.

Bay Park Elem. Banks
Fairly smooth asphalt bank that's about 3-4 ft. high. Great for carves and slides.
Watch out for the playground monitors.

UTC Red Curb
In front of the movie theaters at UTC this juicy thing is at least 40 ft. long. The best grinds around especially without copers. With massive amounts of bellheads hanging out at this place you know it's cool. Watch out for security though.

CARS

Pat's car - '69 VW Bug
This mobile is the ultimate in anything and everything. Good milage, whether it be for skating or shows. It could use some skate racks but maybe later after the breaks get fixed. The stereo is still there and the stickers are killer. Gas, Grass, or Ass? it's your choice.

Greg's dads huge Chevy Power windows, power door locks, huge comfortable seats, and a gigantic trunk. This gas-hog was the site for an awesome "wendy's Salad Bar" party one night. When you want to go somewhere in total comfort and style- this is "the only choice"!!!

Jocko's B-210's
Jocko used to have a pretty nice green DATSUN B-210, but he parked it into the back of a truck in the middle of I-5 during a rainstorm. But, did that stop Jocko? No Way! He got a new blue B-210 with a hunk of garbage radio that doesn't work.
Danny's Dad's Malibu Classic
What more needs to be said? Malibu Classic spells COMFORT! The stereo is kinda wierd, but it works. at least it works.
Brent's Skate Wagon
Brent's car is the coolest by far. He's got a cool stereo, skate racks, room for 10 people, stickers, and usually pizza. If your'e never nidden in the big blue wagon from hell, You haven't lived!!!

MADONNA - Like a Virgin L.P.

I couldn't believe it, I walked into Tower one day and there it was. I couldn't resist. Great songs are Over and over, Material Girl, and last but not least Like a Virgin. Great tunes for the freeway and her videos still rule the earth.

F.U.'s - Do we really want to hurt you?

Bostons worst has produced another good record. Disgusting lyrics combined with medium speed thrash produce cool sounding stuff. Get it and don't regret it.

METALLICA "Creeping Death" 12" Megaforce

This ep has Metallica's best song on it, with two older rippers. "creeping death" creeps through your speaker wires, leaps out your speakers, and pounds your brain with a sledgehammer. Best 12" ep of '84!

Bouncing Babies - D.C. Compilation
F.O.Y.

Featuring Dove, G.I., Void, and Artificial Peace this record is one of difference. Many of the other groups are non-thrash and have a normal sound I guess F.O.Y. accomplished their goal by not producing another Flex Your Head. It's cool, I think.

UNIFORM

Government Issue - Joyride 12" FOY

Every song on this album rules!!
The best are "Notch to my Crotch",
"Time to Escape", and "Blending In".
This is GI's best record yet!

Special Forces - World Domination LP

This Berkeley outfit really puts out the speed thrash, damm their fast.
But anyway, are they still playing shows or what? They haven't written back to me yet, Whatever. Thanks for recommending um' Rich. I know they've been around for awhile but who cares.

DECY "Falling" 12" TOXIC SHOCK
An all around good album. "Sonic Reducer" is the best song, but the originals are all cool thrashers.
An interesting cover, and lyrics
on the inside.

PILLSBURY HARDCORE "Poppin' Fresh" tape

Fartblossom

Have you ever been sitting at the kitchen table eating muffins, when suddenly "The Pillsbury Doughboy" appears with an electric guitar, blazing leads? That's what this is like.

CHOICE

LONE RAGER "Metal Rap" 12"

Megaforce Records

This record is definitely super heavy, molten laden headbanger air guitar boogie at its finest! How can you go wrong with a heavy metal rap song? The B-side is called "Special air guitar head-banging dub."

Genetic Control "First Impressions"
7" Generic Records

This record has got great lyrics and great music. This is my pick for best 7" of 84'. I hope these guys put out another record soon, they're really impressive!

Video

Powell-Peralta Bones Brigade Video Show. $31.50 ppd. from Powell.

It only took 6 days to get it after we sent a money order on a Thursday. Damm that was fast. Powell is great and so is this video. Mountain shreds everything from streets to backyard pools, Steadham pulls maximum air, and the Hawk flies at Del Mar. Slow motion is great and Steve Caballero's monorail grinds tear on Lance's ramp. Just think, now the transitions are even bigger. Watch it at least once or be lame!

This is a rad movie, not to be missed by anyone. The soundtrack includes:

Sucicidal Tendencies
Black Flag
FEAR(YEAAA!)

and a scene in the movie includes the Circle Jerks playing "when the shit hits the fan". The movie is about a punk named Otto who loses his job and becomes a repo man.

Chaos. One of the four ends up in prison and is set straight by being brainwashed. There's more to it then that but I dont want to ruin it for you.

Nightmare on Elm street

This is a scary one, if you see it dont plan on sleeping a while becuse youll have nightmares for a week. It's about a girl who has dreams of some guy trying to kill her and all the teenagers with his fingernail blades. Lots of blood and guts in this one.

Firestorm

This movie will drop your load for sure. Hard Core sex at its best. If you're anywhere near "F street" be sure to drop in and get this one. RAD Chicks and cool cum shots make this one a hit.

Youth Brigade, SNFU, Uniform Choice.
Dec. 23. Flash dance Club, L.A.

I didn't know U.C. were playing, so when I found out I was happy and excited. U.C. started at about 9:30, if they weren't awesome I'm a new-ro. They were so cool-wild straight edge thrash. After U.C. SNFU were actually better. These Canadians play such an intense and energetic style of music it leaves you breathless. I can't wait 'til their album comes out on BYO. After these two excellent bands how could Youth Brigade compare? Well, Y.B. were the best I've ever seen 'em. Everyone sang along and it was total fun! The best show I've ever been to!!!

SHOWS!

CH3, 7Seconds, the Unforgiven
Nov. 10 SDSU's Backdoor

First it was the Unforgiven and I'd like to forget them. Then the coolest band from Reno, 7 Seconds played and completely ripped through their set which ended with the hardcore version of 99 Luft balloons. The barcade that was set up was knocked down by now and stage presence became mandatory. After a student gov't warning the barcade was reset and the CH3 rock-stars began to play. We left after three songs.

Youth Brigade, Vandals, Circle Jerks, Stretch Marks, and Detox.
Dec. 7 Olympic Aud. L.A.

Opening was Detox, some beer drinking local band with thrash tunes, whatever.
The Stretch Marks only played about 6 songs because of some mix-up, but they shredded anyway. Because of Keith's injury nobody was allowed on stage during the Circle Jerks and that sucked. The pits were happening and boy was I glad. Damm it was so much fun, L.A. is cool. By the time the Vandals ~~started~~ started playing I needed to take a ~~short~~ short break by catching my breath and receiving a Coke. OH yea, the Vandals were good. Finally recovering from the Jerks it was time for the BYO greats Youth Brigade. They were awesome to say the least. Good singalong thrash and great rap kept the pits flowing.
Shit that was fun.

Madhouse, Corrosion of Conformity,
Marginal Man, Circle Jerks. Jan 5,
Wilson Center Wash. D.C.
First up was Madhouse, I'd give them a 5 on a scale of 1-10. Their set would of been better if the P.A. didn't keep cutting off. Corrosion of Conformity played a long set of mind blowing, harsh, slam bam hardcore. Next was one of my favorite bands- Marginal Man. These guys were, and are, awesome. They put on the best show of the night. Judging from the crowd's response, I'd say they would agree with me. Last up, of course, was the Circle Jerks. They put on an awesome show, but I don't think they topped Marginal Man. By Mike Moxley.

Chaotic Noise, P.H.C., Mad Parade,
Ill Repute, Decry, CH3
New Years Eve Sun Valley Sportsmans
Hall

Can you think of a better way to spend New Years Eve? I sure can't! Chaotic Noise started the night off with their killer style of head-banging', unrelentless, thrash metal. They were great the first time I saw them, but even better this time. Pillsbury Hardcore are the funnest band I think I've ever seen. Their brand of noise would make the truest Flipper fan cringe. ~~Theirxxkxandxxf noisxx~~ Their songs include such classics as "Heavy Phucking Metal" and "I hate Papercuts" Mad Parade are a cool original band, who really get the crowd into it. I'd like to hear their album, if it sounds half as good as they do live - it will rule. What can I say about Ill Repute? They're the coolest guys around! Not to mention how Great the Band is. They put on an incredible show as usual! Decry proved to everyone why they are Gods of Thunder!! They ripped through their set, and everyone had fun. We left before CH3, because I don't really like Duran Duran.

SamHain Nov. 23,	Motorhead Nov. 24
J.F.A.	Mercyful Fate
Ill Repute	Exitier
M.O.T.

These shows would of been fun, but the police didn't think so. Both shows got cancelled before they even started, and Tim Maze lost $5,000 of something near that amount. That really sucks, but at least Tim Maze is gonna start doing shows again. Good Luck, Tim.

V.S.N.F.U

Broken Bones, Battalion of Saints,
Justice League, Diatribe. Jan. 12
Fairmount Hall, S.D.
Diatribe opened up with a thrash that was way out of tune and way out of ~~xx~~ step.
The League sounded terrible but were awesome, they inspired mucho plenty stage diving and slamming. B.O.S. played their same old stuff with anew drummer, but Chris still kicks ass. Broken Bones was pretty rad for an English band, the bass player and the singer must of forgotten they were from England.

M.I.A., S.N.F.U., Mad Parade, and Diatribe
Dec. 21 Golden Hills Comm. Hall S.D.

United Efforts 4th show proves to be a killer. Diatribe, an improving local band, opens with sketchy peace related thrash tunes. Mad Parade is next with an original nonhardcore sound they call Punk Rock. Definitely cool guys. Then Canada's S.N.F.U. appeared and totally blew the place apart. 18 songs of pure thrash quality. Last but not least it was M.I.A., they also flowed massive amounts of power. With the help of a great sound system this show went without any major hang-ups.
